

Aloha "307" Guests,

As of September 7, 2007, we have the following "extra" items in the condo for your use. Enjoy!

- Snorkeling gear: fins, masks, & snorkels are in the closet on the lanai.
- Tennis rackets and tennis balls are also in the lanai closet, for your use on the complex's tennis court.
- Beach chairs, beach mats, a beach umbrella, and a large bag of toys for digging, building, and playing on the beach are also in the lanai closet.
- Binoculars are in the condo for whale watching from the lanai, during the December to May sighting season.
- In the kitchen you'll find, in addition to the usual items, a coffee grinder, an electric can opener, a tea kettle, a rice cooker and rice bowls, a hot/cold water thermos, cookie sheets, spices and seasonings, and several cookbooks.
- Everyday wines glasses are in the kitchen cabinets. If you have a special occasion and want to use the red-stemmed wine glasses, the cognac glasses, or the champagne glasses on the top shelf, please do.
- There's a good supply of beach towels in the downstairs bathroom cabinets. Please be sure to leave them behind for future guests.
- You have your own washer and dryer in the condo. Laundry detergent is provided.
- Books are here for your reading pleasure. Feel free to take any of the paperbacks home, and please leave another in its place. Please leave the hardback books, and the cookbooks, for future guests to enjoy.
- DVD's are here for your use, as well as music CD's. A list of over forty DVD's for use in the living room DVD/VCR player follows this letter.
- Both the TV in the living room and the TV in the upstairs master bedroom have cable access.
- Games: Scrabble, Monopoly, Clue, the great everyone-can-play card game Apples-to-Apples, and Dora's Candy Land, are in the loft.
- For the younger guests, there is a large container of Lincoln Logs in the downstairs bedroom closets (not for the guest under age 3).
- The phone, which has a wireless handset and an answering machine, also has extensions in each bedroom.
- The clock radios in each bedroom have built-in CD players.
- Flashlights and replacement batteries should be in the bottom kitchen drawer, left of the sink.

If you think of other items which would be useful for guests, items that don't transport well from home, please let us know so we can add them to the condo. Leave a note in the guest book or email us at kihei307@yahoo.com.

Our condo's website is www.GreatMauiViews.com. Booking directly with us is the only way you can guarantee that you get "307" on your next stay. But right now, your priority is enjoying THIS visit. Please do!

Mahalo,

Janet and Dennis Smith
